

and demand either New-York city bank paper, or gold, or specie. The former they refuse to take, and the latter they demand, and in the place of the bank paper, they demand gold, and in the place of the gold, they demand specie. This is a great desideratum in trade, and it is a great desideratum in trade, and it is a great desideratum in trade.

Adverse from the Cape of Good Hope, have been received in London, to the 14th of July. A report is sent from the Cape, that a numerous warlike tribe, or more properly a nation, was on the 11th inst., whose course was marked with the very best, and whose course was marked with the very best, and whose course was marked with the very best.

On Monday, the 27th ult. Mrs. Ballard, consort of Captain Benjamin Ballard, of Gates County, (N. C.) rose about 10 o'clock, and after covering a few miles with her father, Mr. Robert Biddle, at whose house she was on a visit with her husband, stepped into a room where several of the family were sitting, took a gun, left the house unlocked, and in an instant the report was heard. The alarm drew the family to the door, within a few seconds of which, her body was discovered weltering in blood. It is supposed that she applied her fire to the trigger, and put the muzzle of the gun close to her throat, the lead having passed entirely through, which caused her death instantaneously.

A Police Impulse.—About six weeks ago, the store of Captain Knapp, at New-York, was robbed of various articles of merchandise. Last week it was entered again in the night season, and on the back of a letter directed to Captain Knapp, the following message was written and left by the robber: "The Devil's compliments to the captain, and informs him that he has taken nothing this time except a jug of brandy, two silver spoons, and a pair of silver candlesticks—but the next time, he will take the captain himself."

England & S. America.—In noticing the appointment by the British government, of Consuls to the new states of South America, the Liverpool Courier of the 1st ult. remarks: "Happily as to those countries themselves, a strict political justice, and proper respect for our commercial interests, and proper sanction to the most prompt and decisive measures on our part. Whether they may ultimately involve us with France is another question. This is not improbable, should Spain be subdued, and we are to look out at what we owe ourselves. Let government pursue the plain straight forward path of doing what is right, and the nation will never be backward to rally round it, and meet the consequences."

A letter received at Charleston, mentions the arrival at Havana, of a Spanish brig from Malaga, which port she left on the 1st September, having on board a large number of Friars, sent off by Gen. Riego. When they were landed at Havana, the boys hooted at them and pelted them with stones; nor could the populace be quieted until the strangers cried out, "Viva la Constitution!"—when they were allowed to proceed to their lodgings unmolested.

Mr. Beaumont, editor of the "Trifler," a paper published at Kingston, Jamaica, has been tried on an information for a libel on the Duke of Manchester, Governor of that Island. The report of the trial exhibits as striking a proof of judicial arrogance as we have ever seen. The defendant in person concluded his defence, after a thousand interruptions, and was repeatedly cheered on his acquittal by the jury. The Judge and Attorney General were pelted with stones and brick-bats on their return from Court in their carriages.

NOVEL SCENE.—A writ was issued last week, (says the Galaxy,) against the managers of the Boston theatre, in favour of James Allen, Esq. to recover one thousand dollars, in consequence of his being deprived of a seat which he claimed in the theatre on Wednesday evening. Mr. Allen had purchased a ticket in Box No. 19, for Monday evening. Mr. Cooper not having arrived in proper season to perform as had been announced, several persons, and among the rest, Mr. Allen, saw fit to retain their tickets. On Tuesday and Wednesday, (according to the usage in such cases) the managers advertised, that the places taken for Monday night, and not occupied, would be retained for the persons who had taken them till 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning, and that all such places, not retained by that time, would be sold to whoever might apply. Without availing himself of this notice, Mr. Allen claimed and took his place in Box No. 19, on Wednesday evening; considerable altercation occurred in consequence between him and the gentleman who had subsequently taken the box. At the end of the second act, they succeeded in excluding Mr. A. who applied to one of the managers. He was told he might take a seat wherever he could find one vacant, but had no right to claim one which had been sold for that evening. Mr. A. not being satisfied, the manager directed the box-keeper to pay him back his dollar, which he took and departed. The suit above-mentioned was instituted the next day.

Casualty.—We are told by the Greenfield Gazette, that Mr. Willard Bridges, a respectable young man in Deerfield, (Mass.) was killed on the 28th ult. in a most shocking manner. He was working at a machine constructed for testing cloth, when by some means his foot was caught by the band, which passes over the principal perpendicular wheel, so that he could not extricate himself. In this situation he was carried round by the wheel several times, his head in each revolution being struck against the floor with such violence as to be heard a considerable distance, and to induce his wife to suppose she heard the report of a gun. It was some time before the machinery could be stopped, and then life had departed—his head was literally bruised to a jelly.

Mr. Robert Miller, on his return from Kentucky to Centre County, Pa. was robbed on the 5th inst. near Blair's Gap, of the sum of $5,300, by two men dressed in blue clothes. We observe a reward of $500 offered in the Harrisburg Commonwealth, by Messrs. Valentine & Thomas, of Bellefonte, for the apprehension of the villains, or either of them, and the recovery of the money, which consisted of notes of the Bank United States, Virginia and Pennsylvania, and bills of $5 and $10 on the Auburn Bank of New-York.

THE MINERVA.—Just after Capt. Charles Morris left Portsmouth to take his seat at the Navy Board, to which he has been recently appointed, an article appeared in one of the Portsmouth papers and was copied into the National Intelligencer, in which, from a desire to exalt Capt. Morris, as it would seem, the merit of Com. Hull was rather underplayed, in the action between the Constitution and the Guerriere. Upon seeing this article in the Intelligencer, Capt. Morris wrote the following letter to Messrs. Gales & Seaton; it is a noble exhibition of high-minded sentiment; and, as the editors of the Intelligencer justly observe, "however great the merit of Capt. Morris in the action referred to, it did not do him more honor as a man, than the promptitude and frankness with which he has now done justice to the character of Com. Hull."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29, 1823.

To Messrs. Gales & Seaton,

Gentlemen.—While on my way to this place, I noticed a paragraph taken from a Portsmouth paper of the 14th inst. (and which I find republished in your paper of the 23d inst.) that contains an undesigned compliment to myself, and detracts from the justly acquired fame of Commodore Hull, in the capture of the Guerriere by the Constitution.

As this paragraph, from its insinuations, may affect, in the minds of some, the reputation of Commodore Hull, I beg leave to publicly declare any other merit, in that action, than is properly due, an officer in the subordinate situation I now hold, and with pleasure avail myself of this opportunity of stating that Com. Hull displayed, on that occasion, in a very eminent degree, all the requisites of a cool, brave and skilful commander, and that he is justly entitled to all the merit which the successful issue of the action can deserve. Your obedient servant,

C. MORRIS.

The following calculation is by Mr. Degrand, and is well worthy the attention of every economist:

"Two Argand Lamps, which consume each a gill of Spermaceti Oil, being in all 2 cents worth of Spermaceti Oil in an evening, spread as much light as twenty mould-tallow Candles, (weighing five lbs.) would, and these candles would burn down one half in the course of the evening: which at the present low price of Candles, viz. 12 cts. per lb. makes them cost 30 cents for the 24 lbs. consumed."

Even if the tallow was given you, is it not doubtful whether it would not be cheaper to burn Spermaceti Oil, than to pay for the wick and the manufacturing of the tallow candles.

A CARD.—DOCTOR ATKES, Senior, finds it necessary thus publicly to notice, in order to allay the fears of his friends, and save himself the trouble of being frequently accosted in the street, or elsewhere, that the advertisement in Poulson's paper of his intended Lecture before the Medical Society, was not inserted by him, or with his knowledge. It is customary for one of the Senior members of that Society to lecture on some Medical subject, every night of meeting, and one of the Committee having called on me to know if I was prepared to lecture at the next meeting, and being answered in the affirmative, had the notice inserted, in pursuance of a rule of the society, and dated it in his own way—so that the offensive word "Saturday," is not chargeable to the Doctor. This he hopes will suffice.

We have this day given copious details of the news received by late arrivals—they are of a nature highly interesting and important. The surrender of Cadix, an event now confirmed beyond doubt, has entirely dispelled the hopes that have been entertained of the eventual success and triumph of liberal and enlightened principles. It remains to be seen to what length this system of usurpation and tyranny will now be carried—Emboldened by success, the army of the Faith, with the Holy Alliance at their head, will doubtless persevere in suppressing every remaining spark of liberty; and Spain, degraded into submission, with a foreign army of forty thousand men to watch over and compel her obedience, will operate as a powerful example against any further attempt at introducing a spirit of equality and independence. As it is we can but hope for the best; but the time will be far distant, we fear, before the philanthropist and patriot will be permitted to indulge a prospect so flattering to the best feelings of our nature, as that which lately presented itself, but which pusillanimity, bribery, treachery, and cowardice, have now lost to them forever.

Among our articles of foreign intelligence, it will be seen that Greece, aspiring, fearless Greece, is advancing rapidly to a state of independence and happiness; and that though Spain may have disappointed the hopes of her friends, the Greeks are realizing the fondest expectations—and after a long, bloody and obstinate struggle, with little or no assistance, they have succeeded in opposing their Turkish tyrants, and are now about taking that exalted rank among the nations of the earth, which their bravery, integrity and sufferings in the cause of freedom, eminently entitle them to. We perceive the "Christian Nations," after looking on, if not with indifference, at least with a degree of tameness and acquiescence equally astonishing and culpable, have now, that victory is theirs, come to the determination of interfering in behalf of the Greeks. We could almost wish this "interference" might meet that reception its tardiness would seem to deserve—but war has been so long ravaging the territories of this interesting nation, and spreading its desolation and misery around, that every friend to humanity must fervently desire, that peace should be obtained as speedily, and, at the same time, as securely as possible, to afford an opportunity of recruiting her wasted and depopulated shores.

The fast sailing ship Minerva, captain Magwell, arrived at New-York, on the 14th inst., from Liverpool, bringing papers to the 20th October, (two days later than our last accounts—they contain, indeed, of importance. The Minerva has only been sixty-five days absent from port—she has made two voyages to Liverpool and back in the short period of 5 months and 17 days.

Two spirited gentlemen have purchased the seat of Washington Hall in this city, which, it will be remembered, was destroyed by fire on the eve of St. Patrick's day, in March last. They have luckily determined to erect thereon, a building that will combine in public convenience, by furnishing an exhibition and concert room, about 27 feet by 65. The repairs of the Mansion House Hotel adjacent are completed, and the establishment will be speedily opened as an hotel, with extensive accommodations.

The President of the United States returned to Washington city for his winter residence, on the 5th inst.

All the Secretaries of Departments and other principal officers of the government are at their posts, except Mr. Crawford, who is expected daily, he having, where last heard from, reached the seat of Mr. Madison.

The Legislature of Pennsylvania, will meet at Harrisburg, on the first Tuesday of December, and John Andrew Smith, Governor elect, will be installed into office on the Tuesday following.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

The House of Assembly, have decided against an adjourned session, by a large majority.

It is generally understood that there is a considerable majority in the Assembly, in favour of reducing the legal interest of money to 6 per cent, and it is quite probable that an act for this purpose will pass both houses.

There is some talk of investing the State Bank in the contemplated Canal through the State, the Delaware to the Maritima, and of undertaking this enterprise at the risk of the State.

The application of the Salem Steam Mill and Banking Company, for further time to erect their Steam Mill, has been under discussion and decided some time in the house during the last week. The principal opponents of the bill were Messrs. Spring, White and Rimer, who spoke at length upon the subject. Mr. Layton from Salem, replied at length and with ability, to all the arguments urged against the bill. It finally passed, granting in part, the object of the petitioners, allowing one year additional time to erect the Steam Mill.

COLOMBIA—PORTO CABELLO.

By the arrival in this port of the Colombian brig of war Eneas, after a tedious and boisterous passage from La Guayra, we learn that early in October the besieging army under General Paez, with Genl. Bermudez second in command, had made considerable progress in the attack upon Porto Cabello. The town and all the approaches had been taken. The Spanish garrison had been forced to retire to the fortress in the island, upon which a battery of twenty four guns and two thirteen inch mortars played almost incessantly. On the 5th of October a division of two thousand men, under the command of Colonel Lyster, marched from Caracas to reinforce the besieging army, and Captain General, of the Eagle, speaks of these troops in terms of the highest admiration as to their appearance and discipline.

Two ships of war already blockaded the harbour of Porto Cabello, and a naval expedition, to attack the place by sea, was fitting out at La Guayra and Cumana. The ship which had arrived from Holland, to lead in the expedition—she is a fine ship, one of those built by Napoleon, and carries sixty guns.

Lieut. Col. the Hon. Leicester Stanhope, has left London for the Mexico, to tender his services to the Greeks. He is reported that several others would soon follow this gentleman in his meritorious expedition.

The Burlington (Vermont) Sentinel, of Friday inst. announces the arrival at that port, among a number of other vessels, of the sloop Gleaner, from Troy, with a cargo of merchandise. Passengers, a gentleman and lady of that town, who left Liverpool on the 6th of September, and have performed the whole distance of their journey by means of a water communication!

Hail, son of Science! long may'st thou roam aloft, from world to world, And tread the airy sky.

The flight I view with sweet surprise, And on thy pinions fate would rise, Till taught like thee to fly.

Then, thro' the boundless fields of space, Where worlds unnumber'd roll apace, And blazing comets shine, Like thee, with awe profound I'll view, The wonders of the ethereal blue, And own their source divine.

THINGS AS THEY SHOULD BE.—No. II.

The treatment of strangers by our citizens, is exemplary. Even our boys are careful on every occasion to vie with the youth of Sparta. No crowdsmen thronging after them is noticed, and they had rather lose the use of their tongues, than use abusive language, even to a TUSE. This praiseworthy deference to strangers is greatly owing to the unremitting labours of our Societies for the suppression of vice and immorality, and to the proverbial vigilance of our officers of police, who bring to condign punishment all offenders against the sacred laws of hospitality, without respect to persons: not to mention the care of parents generally to instill into the minds of children, the heavenly doctrine of doing unto all men as we would they should do unto us.

The Legislature of our state, it is supposed, in order effectually to put down the small remains of dishonesty still perceptible amongst us, contemplate repealing, at their next session, the Bazaar Law, thus enabling the community to live on their earnings. It is rumoured also that they intend to disqualify for holding any office of honor or profit, any magistrate who shall fraudulently take the benefit of the present Act of Insolvency.

COMMUNICATION.

"The Spy," or, the Victim of Fidelity."

On Wednesday evening next, a new drama, never performed, entitled, "The Spy," or the Victim of Fidelity," and written by a gentleman of this city, will be produced at the City Theatre. The Melo Drama is founded on the popular novel of the "Spy," and is totally different in plot and incident, (as we understand,) to the one that has been performed by the name of the "Spy," or, a tale of the Neutral Ground—being so, we hope a generous public, will not be backward in discerning whether or not it has the same claim to attention.

The evening's entertainment, and positively the last night of the company's performance, prior to their departure for Harrisburg, are for the benefit of Mr. King, a gentleman of erudition and talents.

Lines of unassuming beauty from the Literary Gazette.

TO

"To all too true—that faded cheek,
That smokes eye,
Those accents in remembrance and weak,
That tear that sigh,
With idle hope I've watch'd thy brow
From day to day—
'Tis vain—like white willow, and then
Will pass away!

Nay, dear one! cease that soothing look,
That something true,
Thou dost not think that I could brook
To be alone.

Thou wilt not say that I could bear
On this dear spot
To watch thy footsteps every where,
And find it not!

The Sun will shine as bright above
In other days;
The Moon we used to watch and love,
Still will we gaze;
The flowers, that cheer'd our gentlest care,
May still bloom on,
Our bird pour forth his song, but where
Will thou be gone!

Alas eyes must close, where can they seek
For sight on dear?
My lips be mute—why should I speak?
Thou wilt not care!

Be, dearest, cease that soothing look,
That something true,
Thou dost not think that I could brook
To be alone!

DRAMATIC.

The Circus will close for the season in a few nights; arrangements have been making for the reception of the company at Boston, where it is expected they will open at the City Theatre, on the second week in December next. As manager of the establishment, while in Philadelphia, Mr. Cowell has acquitted himself in general satisfaction; and we are confident the public will not soon lose sight of the merits of an actor who in the discharge of his vocation has contributed so largely to their amusement.

The operative department of the theatre at New-York, has received a great acquisition in the arrival of Mr. Pearson, a singer of considerable celebrity from the Theatre in London. He ranks higher than Phillips, and his songs are said to be delivered with superior effect. At the Park theatre, on Tuesday evening last, the character of Richard III. was sustained by Mr. Wilson, the comedian, after which he performed Johnson in the farce of the Devil to Pay. The African theatre in New-York, which is now open, is said to be crowded almost every night.

At Baltimore, on the same evening as above, Mr. H. Wallack performed Benedick in the comedy of Much ado about Nothing, which, with the face of the Two Pages of F. de Riche, the Great, he had selected for his benefit. After the play, he gave imitations of Messrs. Kemble, Evans, Smith, Matthews, and I. Wallack. The theatre closed on the 19th. M. Villars and company are exhibiting their astonishing feats at the Circus in Baltimore.

Mr. Cooper received a very liberal benefit at the Boston theatre on Monday evening last. The performances were the tragedy of Virginia, and the Tale of Mystery, with the Recitation of Alexander's Feast by Mr. Cooper.

Mr. Barlow, the author of Damon & Pythias, has a tragedy prepared for the stage.

Mr. Conway, a celebrated comedian, we learn, is on the eve of leaving England for America.

The London Magazine, for September, describing the performance of Matthews, the comedian, at one of the London theatres, observes:—
"The only benefit we have yet gained by Matthews' trip to America is, that he has been forced into the drama, the legitimate drama, and in the taste of the Yankees, do we owe one of the best pieces of acting on the stage, we mean Morbleu in Monsieur Toulson."
